

Reviewers 2025

The process of publishing an article involves, in addition to the work of the author, that of other specialists responsible for the evaluation, correction, and publication of the manuscript. Since peer-review is conducted under a double-blind procedure, the role of the reviewer is usually not recognized within the scientific community and is often not given enough credit. We express our gratitude to the specialists who, throughout 2025, selflessly collaborated by dedicating their time and effort to enhancing the academic and scientific quality of the Journal.
